

Helping

By Michael Byrd

Reed liked to help people. When he was at school he helped his teacher pick up trash. At home, he helped his mom set the table.

One day Reed went to his friend's house. He helped his friend clean up his room. His friend was so happy he gave Reed his favorite toy. Reed did not take the toy. He told his friend it made him feel good to help people.

Directions:

Helping others is great. Explain why we should help other people. Use the text to support your answer.

Sample Response:

It is fun to learn about helping. We should help other people.

The text says it makes us feel good to help people. I help my mom with the dishes.

As you can see, we should help when we can. I love learning about helping.
